Industry 'Gives In' To Labor

Hold-the-Line Policy Beaten

WASHINGTON — (UP) — John L. Lewis's new contract appeared today to signal the final collapse of industry's hold-the-line campaign against a "third round" of postwar wage increases.

Capitulation by U. S. Steel and other steel companies to Lewis's wage demands removed virtually the last resistance in the once-solid front. That front was broken first by General Motors corporation and then by General Electric, Westinghouse and other big companies in the past two weeks.

Although the steel companies have not actually signed a contract with Lewis's United Mine Workers, their spokesmen have indicated they will go along "reluctantly" with the $1-a-day pay raise and the 20-cents-a-ton welfare contribution.

These were the major points of the agreement signed yesterday by Lewis and operators producing 70 per cent of the nation's coal.

The steel companies, which run the so-called "captive" mines, balked at the last minute on initiating a contract that continued the union ship without an election by the national labor relations board. Their negotiators claimed this was a violation of the Taft-Hartley law.

SETTLEMENT FORESEEN

However, informed sources said the steel companies will not demur for long. They predicted a settlement before the miners return to the pits July 6 from their annual vacation which began today.

A special coal fact-finding board was to report to the White House later today that the steel companies' refusal to sign involves no threat to the national safety.

Meanwhile, the hold-the-line campaign against wage boosts suffered another setback when the Aluminum Company of America announced that it had granted raises of 10 to 16 cents an hour to the CIO United Steelworkers headed by Philip Murray. The company simultaneously increased the price of aluminum one cent per pound.

This left the telephone, shipping and railroad industries among the last major holdouts against "third round" boosts. The steel companies have not offered a pay raise yet to Murray's Steelworkers, but such a development is said to be in the works.

'We'll Stay,' Say British

LONDON — (INS) — The British government announced today that "we intend to stay in Berlin" despite Soviet efforts to oust the western Allies.

The government position was made public after Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had consulted with United States Ambassador Lewis Douglas on the Berlin situation.

The foreign office statement denounced "this ruthless attempt by the Soviet government to create a state of siege in Berlin and so, by starving the helpless civilian population, to secure political advantages at the expense of other allied powers."

Reports from Berlin today said that Soviet authorities are continuing to prevent coal and food from the west from reaching the sections of Berlin held by the western Allies.

Some 2,000,000 persons live in the affected areas.

The British statement was given out in answer to a report in the Soviet-licensed Berlin newspaper Tagesschau Runcschau indicating Great Britain was preparing to withdraw from the former German capital.

The statement said that "this report is completely untrue and very far from representing the real attitude" of the British government.

3 Wounded In Gun Fight

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Three men were seriously wounded early today in a gun battle in front of a Columbus restaurant.

The three were rushed to St. Francis hospital, where the condition of two was listed as "poor" and the third "fair."

One of the wounded men was Joseph Bernhardt, 35, owner of Bernhardt's grill where the shooting occurred. Police reported that Bernhardt suffered three bullet wounds in the back during a sidewalk duel with 20-year-old Tommy Thompson. A third man, Glenn Saunders, 20, was wounded in the right jaw.

Elevator Starter Spends $118,000

NEW YORK — (UP) — A $47-a-week elevator starter, who a witness said had "such a beautiful way of talking," was convicted last night of squandering some $118,000 his friends gave him to invest.

The gray-haired defendant, Gus Fusaro, 54, was found guilty by a jury on five counts of grand larceny and bucket shop operations.

One Killed, 2 Hurt as Cars Crash Head-on Near Galion

Injuries Fatal to Driver

GALION — Gerald E. Hissey, 31, of Galion, a driver for the Service Taxi company here, was killed and two other persons were injured in a head-on collision at 2:15 a. m. today one-tenth of a mile east of Galion on U. S. Route 30-S. Hissey was dead on arrival at Galion City hospital.

Critically injured was Carl Zent, 28, of Galion, a passenger in the taxi cab. Hospital attaches said he suffered a broken collar bone, fractured nose, possible broken neck and body lacerations.

Ronald Van Valerah, 23, of Springfield, driver of the other vehicle, was dismissed today from Galion City hospital following treatment for head injuries and lacerations.

SWERVED CAR

According to state highway patrolmen, who investigated, the accident occurred on a straight, level stretch of highway. Valerah told patrolmen he swerved his car in an attempt to avoid a collision. Valerah was traveling west while the taxi was headed east.

Hissey was born in Marion June 13, 1917 and had been a taxi driver for 10 years.

He is survived by his wife, Bertha, one daughter, Joyce, of the home; his mother Mrs. Edna Hissey, of New Winchester, O.; six sisters, Mrs. George Altenburg, of Wisconsin, Mrs. James Fitzpatrick, of Cardington, Mrs. Edna Goff, of Bucyrus, Mrs. Martin Hoffman, of Leesville, Mrs. Willis Foreman, of Upper Sandusky, and Miss Katherine Hissey, of New Winchester; and six brothers, John and George, both of near Galion, and Wayne, William, Henry and Leroy, who live with their mother in New Winchester.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Volk funeral home in Galion.

Egyptians Break Truce

RHODES — (UP) — The Palestine truce was jeopardized today by Egyptian violations, and Count Folke Bernadotte's work toward a lasting peace in the Holy Land suffered a severe setback.

Bernadotte acknowledged the gravity of the situation in a report to the United Nations, for which he is mediator. He described as a "serious incident" an Egyptian attack on a Jewish food convoy and on a U. N. observation plane.

He protested vigorously to the Egyptian government and asked for a full explanation. Pending the formal reply, Cairo dispatches indicated the line Egypt would take.

Premier Mahmoud Nokrashy Pasha said informally there was no firing on the U. N. plane by an Egyptian fighter was "a mistake." The Egyptian pilot, he said, thought the U. N. plane was an enemy.

OREON, Ill. — (INS) — Authorities questioned a 27-year-old Dixon, Ill. man today in connection with the murder of a young Rockford, Ill. telephone lineman and the disappearance of the victim's girl companion.

Arrested last night was Irving Peterman, who was reported to have been engaged at one time to Mary Jane Reed, 18-year-old Oregon telephone operator who is missing.

Miss Reed has not been seen since keeping a lover's lane tryst with Stanley V. Skridla, 25, whose bullet-riddled body was found yesterday a mile south of Oregon.

Bathing Beauty Defies Bishop

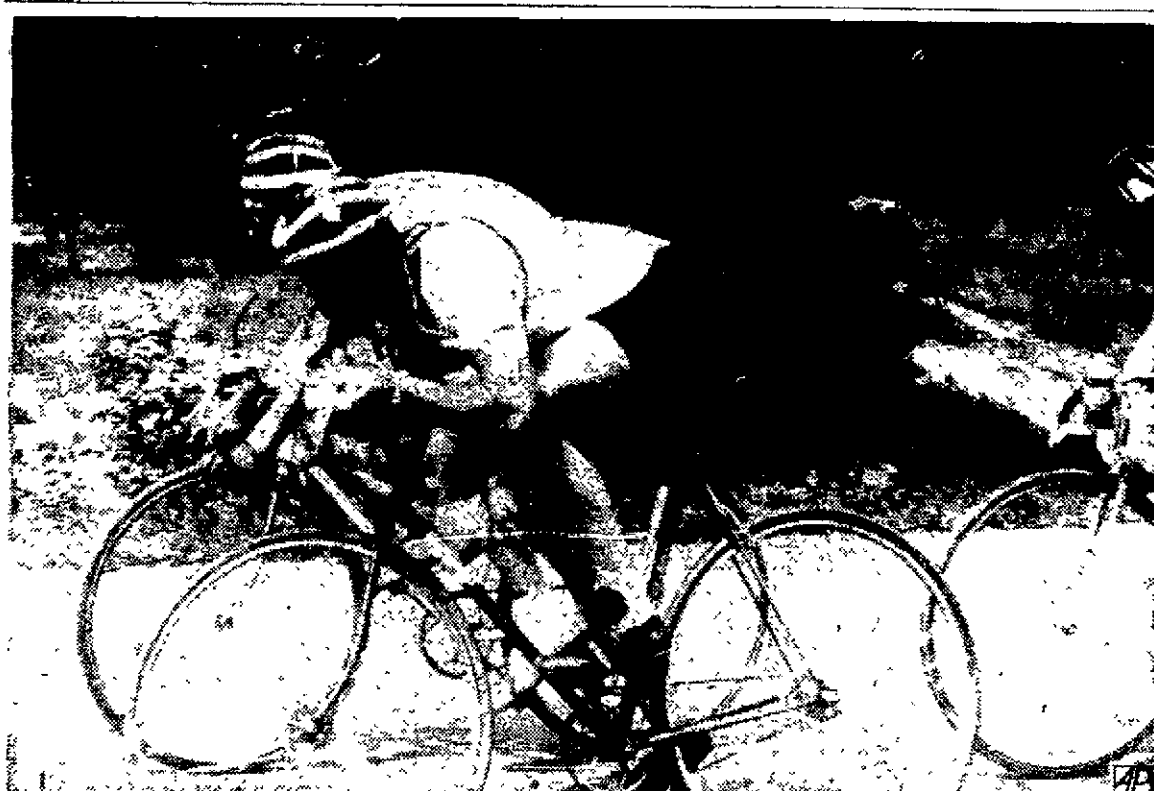

Disregards Threat of Excommunication

WHEELING, W. Va. — (UP) — Pretty Mary Ruth Ford, 20, said today she would participate in a local beauty contest despite the threat of excommunication from the Roman Catholic church.

Her father, a grocer, backed her up.

"It's a matter of the church having one view and the family another," he said, referring to the ruling of Bishop John J. Swint that Catholics taking part in the contest next Monday will face excommunication.

Zerbe Quits City Post

Collected $52,875 In Past-Due Bills

The man who has collected $52,875 in delinquent water accounts for the city of Mansfield is going to retire.

H. A. Zerbe disclosed today that he verbally had informed Fred E. Lingafelter, secretary of the water department, of his decision.

Zerbe recalled that when he started the job of collecting delinquent accounts 10½ years ago, more than $32,000 in back bills was owed to the city. Today, the only delinquent account is one of approximately $4,500, Lingafelter said.

The amount is owed for water used at St. Peter's parochial school since a court decision about 15 years holding that all schools, public as well as private, must pay for water used.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said several efforts to work out a satisfactory settlement of the St. Peter's account had been made by him and previous administrations. He expressed belief "it will eventually be adjusted in a diplomatic way."

"My job calls for a lot of stair climbing, and the doctor has told me that I've got to rest," Zerbe explained.

The 73-year-old city employee said he would continue to work until Lingafelter found a replacement unless the doctor orders him to quit immediately.

"I'm past the retirement age," he commented, adding that he is just going to take it easy from now on.

GOP Candidates Open Vote Drive

Nominees Endorse Record of Congress

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — The GOP ticket of Dewey and Warren is already campaigning for the White House today on a platform strongly endorsing the record of the Republican congress.

This means Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren will battle President Truman and his running-mate on the very issues the chief executive raised against Congress in the last two years.

Dewey made it clear he will establish teamwork with Congress in operation of the federal government. He also proposed the starting plan to have Gov. Warren really serve as an assistant President if the Republicans win next November.

Dewey proposed Warren be relieved of his constitutional duties of presiding over the Senate in order to devote his administrative abilities to handling problems in the executive branch of the government.

There was tremendous enthusiasm among Republican delegates over the ticket.

Only one sore spot appeared. It was the disappointment on the part of congressional leaders that the convention nominated two governors and wholly ignored congress in choosing a ticket.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, who lost out after establishing himself as the number one GOP leader of congress, left Philadelphia with out regrets. He gave Dewey a hard race and lost gracefully.

Rio Grande Nears Crest

LAREDO, Tex. — (UP) — The muddy Rio Grande, only last month at the lowest stage in its history, surged toward this border city today in roaring flood condition and soldiers joined civil authorities in evacuating residents on the Mexican side of the river.

The flood crest was expected to pass here sometime today. Heavy crop and property damage was feared.

The flood, described as the second worst on the Rio Grande in history, had taken the life of at least one man.

The rampaging water began receding in the Eagle Pass and Del Rio areas last night after cresting at 44 feet, 6 inches.

Contest Won By Secretary

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — "Miss Secretary of 1948" felt just like Cinderella today.

A movie screen test, a week's singing on a Hollywood stage, and about $3,000 worth of prizes showered down on petite, 19-year-old June Hill Dry, of Reading, Pa. She's quitting her job in an insurance office there, she said, to try for a singing and acting career in the movies. Judges picked her among 52 candidates at the 1948 convention of the National Secretaries' association yesterday.

Church To Start Building

Congregation Approves Plan

Members of the First Congregational church voted approval last night of plans to start immediately on the erection of a new sanctuary and educational building.

Two subsidiary portions of the original building plan, estimated to cost $300,000, will be deferred.

H. B. Soulen, chairman of the building committee, explained that because of the high cost of construction, the original four-unit plan was broken down into four subsidiary plans and presented to the congregation for decision.

The four plans were:

- A.—To build the sanctuary and educational building only.
- B.—To build the sanctuary, educational unit, the chapel.
- C.—To build the sanctuary, educational hall and social hall.
- D.—To build all four units.

75 PER CENT OF TOTAL

Soulen said plan A, which received congregational approval, "represents about 75 per cent of the building program."

After authorizing Soulen to start immediate building procedure, the congregation named Henry Sanford, chairman of the church cabinet, as chairman of a finance committee to begin immediately a campaign to raise the needed funds.

"The two committees, building and finance, will correlate their efforts toward the rapid building of Plan A," Soulen said. "The remainder of the plan will be erected at a later date."

The new church home will replace one destroyed by fire in the winter of 1943. Since that time the congregation has been worshipping in the Park Avenue Baptist church, Benton street and Park avenue west.

Flying Steel Kills Worker

GALION — An accident at the Perfection Steel Body company fatally injured William Wickliff Meeker, 42, of 115 North Cherry street, Mt. Gilead, at 8 a. m. today.

Meeker had just changed the wheel on a portable grinder he was using to grind a die when the wheel broke. A piece of the steel pierced his stomach. He died about 10 minutes after admission to Galion City hospital.

Coroner O. R. Kackley said that death was due to a severed artery in the abdomen.

Mr. Meeker leaves his wife, Clara, a son, Dale, at home, and two daughters, Wilma, at home, and Mrs. Dolores Smiley of Mt. Gilead.

Funeral services will be Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the Craven funeral home in Mt. Gilead. Rev. Roy Evans will officiate. Burial will be in Ruercliff cemetery.

Green Flays GOP Ticket

WASHINGTON — (UP) — President William Green today said the American Federation of Labor will "never support the Dewey-Warren ticket" in the Republican presidential ticket.

After a 15-minute visit with President Truman, Green told White House reporters he believed the Republicans "certainly won't get much labor support."

He said the Philadelphia convention "could have picked a stronger ticket."

Bulletins

Francis William Doolittle of Mansfield will be the New Grandview (O.) high athletic director, school officials announced in Columbus today. He succeeds Chuck Thackara, who goes to Hamilton. Doolittle is a graduate of Mansfield high school and was a quarterback at Ohio State in 1946 and '47. He helped coach the Buck grid team during spring practice. Doolittle awarded a "most valuable player" trophy to Dick Ernsberger of Madison at last fall's News-Journal football banquet.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Ohio Novelist Louis Bromfield proposed a 400 million dollar Marshall plan today for the Near East to end the Jewish-Arab conflict in the Holy Land. Bromfield, co-chairman of the American League for a free Palestine, said such a plan would end the conflict without a strain on the U. S. economy.

Woman Dead 7 Minutes Lives Again

CHICAGO — (INS) — A young Chicago woman who lay "definitely dead" on an operating table for seven minutes was reported "doing as well as can be expected" today after she was brought back to life.

Dr. Max Thorek, chief surgeon of the American hospital, whose quick, deft action revived Mrs. Julia Brittan, yesterday was reluctant for "ethical reasons" to talk about his feat.

The Hungarian-born physician admitted, however, that he was under "a terrific strain" while making three rapid incisions to reach the woman's heart and then massaging it with his hand until it began to beat feebly.

GOP Selects Dewey Man As Chairman

Pennsylvania's Martin Rewarded

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Rep. Hugh Scott Jr., 45-year-old Philadelphia, was named today as the new chairman of the Republican national committee.

Approved personally by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the presidential nominee, Scott was unanimously elected formally at a meeting of the national committee today. He succeeds Carroll Reece of Tennessee.

The selection of a Philadelphia man was seen as a tribute by Dewey and party leaders to the veteran U. S. Senator Edward W. Martin, of Pennsylvania, whose sudden death of his presidential ambitions to nominate Dewey was a turning point toward Dewey's nomination.

While Scott will wear the mantle of national chairmanship, much of the campaign work will be done by Herbert Brownell, Jr., chosen by Dewey as national chairman in 1944.

Brownell, a member of the New York triumvirate which engineered the Dewey campaign, did not want the national chairmanship, but he agreed to give all the time to the 1948 campaign that he can spare from his large law practice.

Scott, serving his third term in Congress, was chosen on the theory that because the party's candidates for president and vice-president are governors, it would be wise to assign the national chairmanship to someone linked with the 80th Congress.

Scott entered the second World War as a navy lieutenant, serving in the occupation of Iceland aboard the battleship New Mexico. In 1944, he volunteered to serve as an ordinary seaman aboard a tanker carrying high octane gasoline to fighter planes in England.

By then a lieutenant commander, he drove the first Navy jeep in Tokyo in 1945.

Miss America Will Become Bride Tonight

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UP) — Miss America becomes a bride tonight.

Barbara Jo Walker, 22, the tall Tennessee brunette who won the nation's beauty title in Atlantic City last September, and Dr. John Vernon Hummel, 24-year-old interne, will say their "I do's" in a double ring ceremony.

The wedding was foretold the night Barbara captured the Miss America crown. A Sunday school teacher and choir singer, she repeatedly refused movie contracts. Instead, she said she only wanted to marry Hummel and that "private life" was more important than anything Hollywood had to offer.

She said she entered the contest only for the education awards that went to the winner.

Yesterday, she was invited to enter the Mrs. America contest Sept. 12 at Asbury Park, N. J.

Hot Weather Returns to City

The heat was back today. After two days of moderate temperatures, Mansfielders perspired in sultry weather today. The temperature was expected to reach the high 80's this afternoon. High yesterday was 82.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms were forecast for tonight and Sunday. The weather will continue warm, the forecast said. Light showers fell in Mansfield last night.

Setting Up Of Boards To Begin

Forces Seek Enlistments

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The first registration under the new peacetime draft will be on Aug. 16, national defense officials said today.

The delay is necessary, they said, in order to give the proposed 4,000 draft boards throughout the nation a chance to get organized.

These officials estimated that by Aug. 30 the first questionnaires will be in the mail to draft-eligible men in the 19-through-25 age group.

After they are classified, the oldest of the 1-A's will be called up first. Barring an emergency, however, nobody will be inducted before Sept. 22.

Meanwhile, the Army, Navy and Air Force planned to announce, probably Monday, that they are throwing open their ranks to enlistments by 18-year-olds for one year's service. An 18-year-old can escape the 21-month draft by enlisting for 12 months and then serving six years in the reserve.

ARMY ANNOUNCEMENT

Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall will announce at a Monday press conference how the Army plans to handle the draftees. He is also expected to outline a plan for handling 18-year-olds that will include some of the features of the experimental universal military training unit at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The Army will train 110,000 of the one-year enlistees, the Navy 36,000 and the Air Force 15,000. The Army will increase in size from 548,000 to 837,000. The Navy from 468,000 to 666,882, and the Air Force from 382,000 to 502,000.

Royall clamped the lid on a National Guard recruiting yesterday on the ground that the Army hasn't enough money to pay more men. Those eager to escape the draft by volunteering in the Guard had boosted its enrollment far over the $41,000-man quota during the past week.

Meanwhile, the Air Force said it does not plan to absorb any draftees during the present year and the Navy said it may take a "nominal" number during the period.

An Air Force spokesman also said that the department is planning a training program for 18-year-olds who enlist for one year as provided by the draft law. The official said the program would be similar to universal military training.

Scow Hides Dope Cache

NEW YORK — (UP) — City sanitation workers dug deeper into 20 tons of garbage aboard a scow in New York harbor in a search for a reported $1,500,000 in smuggled narcotics.

The search began last Tuesday under supervision of U. S. customs guards and the police department's narcotics squad after it was reported the 45-pound package containing the contraband landed by mistake on the scow.

Meanwhile, police said six persons were being held on narcotics smuggling charges. They were accused of bungling plans to bring in the narcotics from the Orient via Italy aboard the Marine Perch, which docked last Saturday.

Police said the package contained cocaine and heroin, and that acting on a tip, they had arrested a seaman as he was carrying a sample of the shipment off the pier after the Marine Perch arrived.

N-J Camera Spends Day At the Park

The "good old days" are brought back in a Mansfield Album picture and the first in a series of "Remember When" stories. It's a series you'll thoroughly enjoy.

Is credit tightening up in Mansfield? And will the ladies tolerate low hemlines this fall? These two questions answered in a group of feature stories that touch both the local and national scene in the Sunday N-J.

Lost Tribe of Republicans Again Pick Up Path to Promised Land

PHILADELPHIA—At seven o'clock in the evening, as the music of the bands rose like flame, the pagan yearning of the Republicans in the streets and lobbies and the hot cells and abominable swills became a charge of barely suppressed jubilation. For sixteen years the lost tribe had been living on acorns and war contracts and the patronage of New York state and gradually more and more liberated provinces.

Now, with a standing roster of more than a million federal jobs, a majestic total commanding their awe as partisans and their loathing as selfless patriots, the displaced politicians felt triumph in their hearts, and heard it in the massive whoops and cries of the brasses.

It was a night of joy impending and if the men and women of Taft forgot their debt to Mr. Dewey for his heroic service in retrieving the Empire state that was an emotional error to be repented and forgiven in due course.

They owed a certain surfeit of gratitude to the late Roosevelt, too. For he had so vastly enlarged the function of the national government so long ago that even Republicans now regarded social security as a fundamental right of the common man, and the jobs with it. Only recently they had fought to expand it and increase the jobs.

Even while they damned the spendthrift who had never met a payroll, they also damned the heartlessness of an old-age dole which ignored gardeners and butlers. Roosevelt had set precedents now become customs which, however infamous his purpose at the time, could be revoked today only with delicate care lest the edifice of liberty collapse.

Mayor, Governor Call For Savings Programs

Monday marks the beginning of Security Loan week in Mansfield and Ohio.

By proclamation of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, the period from June 28 to July 4 is designated as a time for every United States citizen to invest his savings in the security of United States saving bonds.

The mayor's proclamation stated, in part, "that the soundness and stability of our economy depend in the end upon the productive effort of each citizen and the thrift of each individual and family."

"The savings bond program of the U. S. treasury encourages thrift and regular savings and works against further price increases," the proclamation declared.

The mayor urged enlistment in the bond-a-month or payroll savings plans to help the creation of a "sound and stable economy."

Harold G. Balyeat of Sun Glow Industries, Inc., is chairman of the Richland county bond drive. The state goal for the sale of bonds has been set at $175,000,000.

California Welcomes 'Native Son' Warren

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Enthusiasm over the selection of the state's governor, Earl Warren, as vice presidential running mate of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on the Republican ticket continued to run high in California today. A mighty reception was planned for him and his family.

Warren, long active in Republican politics, is now serving his second term as governor. He was keynoter of the 1944 Republican convention, this serving to bring him into national prominence for the first time.

The silver-haired Warren, who is generally recognized throughout the West as a "progressive Republican," was born in Los Angeles in 1891. He attended public schools of Bakersfield, Calif., where his father worked as a railroad car builder.

After school and during vacation, Warren did everything from selling newspapers and driving mule teams to working in railroad shops.

He still had time to play on the high school baseball team, to hunt, swim and fish.

Warren was graduated from the University of California in 1912 and from its law school later, and then went to work in a private law office in San Francisco.

When the first world war came along he entered the Army as a private and was sent by the Army to Camp Lewis, Wash., for training as an officer shortly after the outbreak of war.

SERVED AS OFFICER

Warren was an infantry officer at Camp Lee, Va., and was discharged at Camp MacArthur, Tex., as a first lieutenant.

Warren's father had been a mechanic in Los Angeles for the Southern Pacific railroad. The elder Warren lost his job when he went out on a strike and it was then he moved his family to Bakersfield.

While preparing to enter college, Warren played the cornet in bands and orchestras, and was a member of Local 263 of the Musicians' union at Bakersfield.

Warren still holds an honorary membership card in the Musicians' union.

The governor's first position in civil government was clerk of the judiciary committee of the state assembly in the 1918 legislature.

Warren was deputy city attorney in Oakland in 1919 and 1920. He was elected district attorney

Takes Dishes Sent to Jail

Theft of $6 worth of dishes from a Pennsylvania camp car resulted today in a 10-day jail sentence for John Schinsky, 24, of 15 Front street.

Schinsky pleaded guilty in municipal court to a petty larceny charge. Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said the stolen goods were recovered yesterday at the home of a girl friend of Schinsky's. She told deputies she did not know the goods were stolen.

A 46-year-old woman is held in county jail for investigation in connection with the theft of six deep-well cooker pots from a freight car at the Pennsylvania freight depot.

The sheriff said that investigation of that theft led to the apprehension of Schinsky on the other charge.

He said the pots were recovered Thursday. They were consigned to the Westinghouse plant. Robinson said the theft occurred Monday.

Car, Garage Damaged In Fire

Mansfield firemen were called twice yesterday afternoon. At 2:33 p. m., firemen from No. 2 station went to the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company warehouse at 282 North Diamond street where papers in a washroom were on fire. No damage was reported.

At 4:22 p. m., firemen from central station answered a call at the home of Elmer Balliett of 279 West Third street. A fire of unknown origin had broken out in Balliett's double garage. The garage and a car were slightly damaged.

Sales Tax Revenue Still Headed Up

A report by Don H. Ebright, state treasurer, also shows the 1948 collections to date in Richland county total $695,521, or $116,123 more than for the same period last year.

DELAYED FEAST—

The potato chips and popcorn are all gone now. Three youthful Mansfielders thoughtfully laid in a big supply Thursday night. They had just finished filling several big dishes and settled back to enjoy the Louis-Walcott fight when the announcement of a postponement came. Disgusted and unhappy, they spent the next half hour carefully re-sealing the packages and putting the party food away. Last night, they held their delayed feast.

Boys Reported Worst Offenders

Juvenile delinquency is on the downgrade in Richland county, complaints dropping 26 per cent from 1945 to 1947, the court's annual report showed today.

The report, prepared by Judge Stuart H. Cramer's department, was submitted to the county commissioners.

Compared with 1945 when there were 262 complaints, the report placed the 1947 figure at 137. The court handled 54 cases of neglect and non-support during the period.

Twenty-two of the 137 complaints in 1947 concerned girls while 115 concerned boys. Acts of carelessness and mischief headed the list of complaints against boys with 28 such acts reported in 1947.

Seventy-seven of the 137 offenders were committed to the custody of their parents while three were committed to other individuals. Only 12 were sent to correctional institutions in 1947.

COLLECTS $4,938

The court last year collected $4,938.30 for the support of children, $1,327.86 in fines and costs against adults and $689.86 by way of restitution for property damage.

The division of Aid to Dependent Children received 188 applications for child aid and 68 applications for aid to families during 1947. Total amount administered in grants was $75,958 in 1947 as compared with $67,074 in 1946.

Personnel of the juvenile court includes Judge Cramer, Ralph W. Carroll, chief deputy in charge of boys; Donald Harman, deputy on boys' probation; Mrs. Marjorie M. Comer, deputy in charge of girls; and Mrs. Lavina Snodgrass, deputy in charge of records. Maj. William J. Jones and Mrs. Bertha E. Jones are in charge of the detention home.

Lewis Marion McFerren, 43, was found dead at 12:20 a. m. today in his home on U. S. Route 30-N, apparently from a self-inflicted pistol wound in his head, Coroner D. C. Lavender said.

Mr. McFerren died about 2 p. m. yesterday, the coroner said. Dr. Lavender has not returned an official verdict in the case.

Mr. McFerren was at home alone during the afternoon, members of the family told sheriff's deputies. His wife, Mary, found the body.

Mr. McFerren had been employed as a machinist at the Westinghouse corporation for the past 12 years. He was a lifelong resident of Richland county.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are three sisters, Mrs. Edward Mellick, Mrs. Howard Sowash and Mrs. Fleet Geary, all of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 3 p. m. at the Wofford funeral home by Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial Park. Friends may call at the funeral home until time for services.

Nomination of Dewey Marked By Absence of Party Feuds

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

PHILADELPHIA — QNS — In Thomas E. Dewey the Republicans chose a man already known to millions of Americans as a vivid and dominant figure who has been on the political scene for a long time. He will become a great deal better known to them in the months between now and November.

The interparty feuds and bitterness predicted by some failed to develop.

It was clear at the close of the convention that the whole of the Republican party was solidly behind the new candidate. "This will be of great benefit to the nation and the world for it will mean that our government will function quickly and decisively, without the feuds, delays, vetoes and contradictions which have complicated and weakened our policies both at home and abroad during the past two or three years.

One's first impression of the new Republican candidate is of a man of great energy, health and vitality. As presidents go he is a young man. These qualities are of great importance in what is unquestionably the toughest job in the world. As someone put it the other day "we never have any real danger in this country of a president developing into a dictator. It takes too long for him to maneuver himself into the position. Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK—(UP)—The most feared figure in the history of the ring stepped down today—the winner and still champion.

Joe Louis, after 11 years and three days as heavyweight king of the world, sat listlessly on a rubbering table in his dressing room deep under Yankee stadium and said he was through for good.

Surrounded by a screaming, exulting mob, the champ smiled softly and a bit sadly as he insisted nothing would change his mind. He was, he said, "a tired old man" of 34. He looked weary.

But a few minutes earlier, before screaming thousands, he had appeared for heart-stopping seconds like the Brown Bomber of old. Those tearing tan fists, which 24 times before had defended the biggest boxing prize of them all, flashed in all their old fury as they stretched Jersey Joe Walcott flat on the canvas, a powerless body with his brain blacked out.

NOW IT WAS over. The flash bulbs of the photographers were popping like summer lightning. Newspapersmen screamed questions in his ears, and Joe's shoulders drooped tiredly.

"Ah'm sure glad it's over for good," Louis grinned, kissing his finger tips in farewell.

But somehow you knew it was the flesh which spoke, and not the spirit. There was a faraway look in the placid brown eyes, even in all that bedlam. The guy who came out of a cabin in an Alaskan cotton patch must have been looking down the retreating years.

Back to those turbulent months when he was the young Joe Louis, on his way up. The time he was kayoed by Max Schmeling—his only defeat—and how he evened the score after knocking out Jimmy Braddock to win the title which now will be partially his forever.

HE WAS YOUNG and strong then, with the fastest pair of hands the heavyweight division ever has seen. They came at him often, all shapes and sizes. But seldom did they come back a second time. For when they did, the curfew only tolled earlier.

A few feet away, in another dressing room, Jersey Joe Walcott was giving testimony to the latent lightning which had brought a glorious end to a brilliant era.

"I don't know what hit me," he sobbed. "All I know was that I was down. I couldn't hear the count but I knew I had to get up. I couldn't."

Jersey Joe shook his head.

"He's a real gentleman, Joe is, in and out of the ring," Walcott added. "And a great fighter."

The man can say that again!

Hogan, Demaret Battle Tough 2nd Place Golf Team

By FRITZ HOWELL

TOLEDO—(UP)—Whether Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret can win the Inverness best-ball tournament's $3,000 top prize three times in a row may be settled today as they run into the hottest pair in the 126-hole $10,855 classic.

They meet the second-placers, drawing E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., and Bob Hamilton, the former PGA ruler from Evansville, Ind.

Harrison and Hamilton have fired three consecutive 63's over the rolling Inverness terrain. Scoring 22 birdies and an eagle in 54 holes, but the best they've been able to do is win two matches by two-up and break even in the other.

Standings:
Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, plus 7; Dutch Harrison and Bob Hamilton, plus 4; Clayton Heafner and Herman Keiser, plus 2; Chick Harbert and Vic Ghezzi, plus 2; Bobby Locke and Ed Furgol, minus 1; Cary Middlecoff and Jim Ferrier, minus 4; Lloyd Manrum and Dick Metz, minus 4; Johnny Palmer and Skip Alexander, minus 6.

Joe Breaks 100

STUTTGART, Ark. (UP)—A pair of out-of-state marksmen showed the way here yesterday in the Rice belt handicap, a warm-up for Sunday's $2,000 added Dixie handicap trapshoot.

Joe Hovstad, Hillsboro, O., turned in the day's best effort by cracking 100 straight in the morning class event.

Bums' Branca Wins 7th Straight

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK—(UP)—There aren't any interesting telephone numbers in Ralph Branca's "little black book," but what he has in it about "National league batters would be juicy gossip at any pitcher's tea-party."

Branca, the fast-flinging right handed ace of the Brooklyn pitching staff, has the weaknesses of every opposing batter catalogued and what is more important, he can throw them what they can't hit.

He demonstrated that anew last night when he rifled his way to a 3 to 2 triumph over the Cardinals at Brooklyn, winning his seventh straight game and his ninth of the season against five defeats.

The Braves again went a game-and-a-half ahead of the second place Cardinals by rapping out a 12-hit, 12 to 3 victory over the Pirates at Boston. Warren Spahn coasted to his sixth victory.

The Giants got three-hit pitch-

Hunt Opens As Champion Quits Game

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK—(UP)—Head men of boxing sought a youthful successor to Joe Louis today because of the champion's retirement after his knockout victory over Jersey Joe Walcott in their million dollar fiasco of "old men" at Yankee Stadium.

Had the 34-year-old principals in last night's golden flopper been preliminary boys, they would have been tossed out of the ring for stalling.

Yet each will share in the rich harvest of a $841,739 gate and in funds from radio, television and movies that must swell the total receipts well beyond $1,000,000.

The 42,667 fans who witnessed the twice-postponed extravaganza of ineffectiveness forgot some of their displeasure when they realized they had been present at the last performance of a once-great champion, who ruled the heavyweight division longer than any other titleholder.

COMPLETE DEFENSE

When Louis knocked out the stocky, bull-charger challenger at 2:56 of the 11th round, he completed the 25th defense of the crown he had wrested from Jim Braddock at Chicago 11 years and three days before.

The champion from Detroit got some consolation from the fact he was bowing out triumphantly when he announced his retirement in the dressing room, but even he admitted it was a "lousy right."

Two highlights prevented it from being as bad as the historic Louis-Billy Conn stinkeroo two years ago. Walcott floored Louis for a one-count with a right to the chin in the third round, and they were mixing freely—at last—when Louis achieved his kayo in the 11th.

Until the kayo, they had fumbled along on even terms in a much less interesting bout than their first engagement last December at Madison Square Garden, when Walcott surprised everyone by flooring the champ twice and nearly winning the title.

LOOKS GOOD LATE

Only in the later rounds did Louis show any resemblance to the once great pugilist who had knocked out nine previous opponents in return bouts.

During most of the rounds last night, the crowd clamored for action, as a three-quarter moon finally rose above the green horse-shoe of stands and dispelled a threat of rain. And Referee Frankie Fullam kept urging both to "get in there and fight."

Louis, at 213½ pounds, appeared somewhat sharper than in their December bout; but the was much more cautious. Walcott, at 194½ used nearly the same elusive tactics as before; but he gambled less.

Louis' 40 per cent of the net gate will approximate $259,250. Walcott's 20 per cent will be about $129,625.

Louis plans to enter politics and to devote some of his time to boosting the sale of his soft drink "Joe Louis Punch."

Walcott plans to continue fighting and to make another bid for the title.

Indians' Lead Cut To 1 Game Over A's

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians just can't seem to get over the home-town jitters which have plagued them all season.

The Tribe fell behind the .500 mark in games won and lost on their home grounds by dropping a 3-2 decision to the lowly Washington Nats last night at the stadium before 21,408 fans.

The loss sliced the Indians' first-place margin over the Philadelphia Athletics to one game and was their 15th defeat against 14 wins on home territory.

Bob Lemon was nipped for his sixth loss of the season, largely because of Washington starter Early Wynn's three hits out of three times at bat.

Wynn batted in two runs in the seventh inning with an infield single to put the Nats ahead to stay. Both runs were unearned, however. Al Kozar dropped a single into center and when Johnny Sullivan bounded to Lemon, both runners were safe when Lemon threw late and high to Joe Gordon at second. A sacrifice set the stage for Wynn's hit.

The Indians drew first blood in the contest when Lemon doubled to deep center in the third inning, driving in Jim Hegan from first base. Washington tied it up in their half of the fourth when Earl Stewart doubled, moved to third on an infield single and scored on a fly to short center.

The Indians added their second tally in the fifth when Gordon blasted his 11th home run of the season deep into the left field stands.

Wynn allowed the Indians but six hits in chalking up his sixth win of the year while Lemon gave up seven.

Legion Meets Crestline In Tournament

By CHARLEY STINE

The American Legion Post 16 Junior baseball team will launch what could be the beginning of a long trail to the state championship this afternoon when it begins tournament play.

Manager Dewey Durant's team meets the Crestline Legion at 1:30 p. m. at Liberty park in the first game of a round-robin elimination tournament. The winner of the tournament, to be played among five nearby cities will advance to the district tournament at Bellevue.

Shelby and Galion Legion teams are scheduled in the second half of today's double-header. Tomorrow the teams will move to Shelby with the winners of today's games clashing. Loudonville, the fifth team in the joust, will meet one of the losers.

The tournament will play at Crestline July 3, then move to Galion July 4 and Loudonville July 5.

The Mansfield Grays will also have their busiest week-end of the season as they play three games in two days. The Grays were scheduled to go to Ohio State Reformatory this afternoon and tomorrow will entertain the Akron Good-year team in a double header.

Manager Lefty Deeds is hoping for a continuance of the brilliant pitching which the Grays have had the last three games. Jack Hammett, in winning two of the games, has allowed seven hits and one run while walking two and striking out 22. Don Hardy hurled the other and allowed two hits, walked two, and fanned 21.

Deeds plans to save Hardy and Hammett to go against the tough Good-year team. Today he will probably divide the chores among Merle Leedy, Dean Hahn and Shelly Swank and may throw a little himself.

T and E Tavern will attempt to accomplish a feat tomorrow which the Grays failed to do earlier in the season—beat the Marion VFW team.

Marion will meet T and E at 2:30 p. m. at Liberty park with Jerry Novacic down to hurl for the Taverners. Marion beat the Grays, 8-6.

In specialty events, Jack Miller smacked the longest drive, a 280 yard clout, and Charlie Bonar and Marshall Smith tied in the blind bogey. Both shot medal scores of 79.

Special prizes were awarded to those playing only nine holes. Jim Hoffman and Karl Langacher tied with low medal of 39 while Willis Carto had high gross with a 63.

9 Programs Booked For Summer

Rev. Shook to Talk First Sunday Night

Beginning Sunday night, July 4, Mansfield churches will join in city-wide outdoor services at South park, Rev. Carver P. Mitchell, committee chairman, announced today.

This summer's series of open-air services will be the fourth held under the sponsorship of the Mansfield Ministerial association. For 40 years, services were held at South park. Last year they were moved to Stadium field back of Senior high school. This year, due to lighting difficulties, they will return to South park.

The ministerial committee in charge of planning includes Rev. Mitchell, Rev. C. W. Stoneburner, Rev. D. N. Roller, Rev. W. J. Shawk, and Rev. Matthew G. Madden.

Services Sunday will be held at 7 p. m. For each service one of Mansfield's pastors will preach and have charge of service arrangements.

REV. SHOOK TO TALK

The schedule for the nine-week series follows: July 4, Rev. C. L. Shook, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church; July 11, Rev. V. C. Stamets, of the First Evangelical UB; July 19, Rev. Madden of the First Congregational, a youth service, and on July 25, Rev. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

August services will start with Rev. J. J. Price, newly-appointed pastor of Mitchell AME chapel, in charge. Plans have been made for the church choir to sing. On Aug. 8, Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church, will preside, and on Aug. 15 there will be a hymn sing in charge of Rev. A. L. Heinz, associate pastor at the Broad Street Methodist church in Columbus, who is in charge of the singing at the annual Christian Endeavor convention now being held in Shelby.

Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger of the First Christian church will preside at the Aug. 15 service. On Aug. 22, there will be a moving picture, "My Name Is Han," in charge of Rev. Mitchell. The final service, Aug. 29, will be in charge of Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church.

Mimeographed copies of program features have been sent to all pastors by Rev. Mitchell. Mansfield ministers in charge of services are to arrange for all music, both voice and instrumental, ushers, seating and offering, and printing of 350 copies of the program with hymns. Pastors are to have complete charge of all arrangements with the exception of loudspeakers, chairs and platform.

From Malachi to Christ

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Daniel 2:31-45; 8: 11; Malachi 3:1-5; 4; Luke 1:67-79; 2:25-33; John 10:22, 23.

By Alfred J. Buescher

King Nebuchadnezzar had a strange dream, which troubled him. He saw a great image with head of gold, breast and arms of silver, belly and thighs of brass, legs and feet of iron and clay. Daniel interpreted it.

In the reign of Belshazzar, Daniel had a vision wherein he saw a ram with two horns, one shorter than the other, and a goat with one short horn between his eyes, and the goat fought the ram and conquered him.

Then a man appeared to Daniel in the vision and explained to him that a king would come and destroy many, and he would even stand up against the Prince of princes, but should be broken "without hand."

Malachi, following Daniel, prophesied that a messenger (John) should come to prepare the way of the Lord, who would purify the sons of men that they might offer an offering in righteousness. MEMORY VERSE—1 John 4:10

CLEVELANDER TALKS

"The most powerful thing in this world is serving Christ," Rev. Harry Baumer, pastor of the Eighth Evangelical and Reformed church of Cleveland, told the 300 delegates at the annual banquet last night in the First Lutheran church.

"There are so many second rate politicians in offices because second rate voters put them there," he declared. "Only Christian people in this world are trying to go in the same direction. We need to go about together in this world doing good for Christ."

Harold Sams of Plymouth, county registration chairman, presented Rev. Clair Beatty of Columbus, executive state secretary, with a check for $1,202 as the entertaining county's share of sponsoring the convention.

Rev. Beatty said 141 Richland county residents had paid $5 each for a sponsor registration, the largest number ever recorded.

The county C. E. union received a check for $163.50 from the state organization for going over the $750 guarantee. The county union will purchase a mimeograph machine to publish a small county C. E. publication.

Miss Mary Alice Weller of Plymouth sang several vocal solos.

Student Day Scheduled

Tomorrow morning will be Methodist Student Day at the Central Methodist church. Mrs. P. C. Davis, superintendent of the Young People's department, will have charge of the program, which will take the place of the regular morning worship hour.

Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the church, is attending the annual North-East conference at Lakeside. There will be no evening services.

At the Student Day program, Miss Elizabeth Burneson, organist, will play "Shepherd's Morning Song" as a prelude and the children's choir will give the call to worship. A responsive reading, "Children's Day" will be led by Charles Frye.

Rev. Price Named At Mitchell Chapel

Rev. J. J. Price of Cleveland, is the newly-appointed pastor of the Mitchell Chapel, AME.

Rev. Price succeeds Rev. Hugh L. Anderson who has been transferred by the presiding bishop to the Oak Hill AME church at Youngstown.

Rev. and Mrs. Anderson came to Mansfield last October. The congregation at Youngstown has a membership of 800 members, Rev. Anderson said. They will move to Youngstown Wednesday and will make their home at 436 Oak Hill avenue.

BOARD TO MEET

The regular meeting of the official board of the First Methodist church will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Brown, David and Audrey Buchanan, Judy Whiteleather, Ronald Smith and Jack Lehman.

Children of the Cradle roll, beginners and primary department also will participate.

Lutheran Camp Dedicates $16,000 Swim Pool Sunday

The new 35 by 75 foot swimming pool at Camp Mowana, Lutheran camp at the old Fleming Falls site, will be dedicated at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow with appropriate ceremonies.

The swimming pool, started last year, was completed last week and filled with water. It takes the place of the make-shift pool in the creek at the falls.

Built at a cost of about $16,000, it is one of the finest privately owned pools in this area. When filled it will hold approximately 80,000 gallons of water.

The water, obtained from a 130-foot drilled well, is ice cold but will be warmed during the summer season by running it through copper pipes placed on the roof of the low building that houses well and filtering equipment.

THREE HUGE TANKS

The filtering equipment is contained in three huge tanks, filled with three grades of gravel and three grades of quartz or sand. Through these filtering machines, the water runs into five separate pipes which drain into the pool.

There are three depths to the pool—three, five and nine feet. A high wire fence surrounds the entire swimming area.

"We erected the fence," Rev. James Keyser, camp supervisor said, "in order to keep out the children who are not eligible to enter the pool except during their regular hours. It also, for the present, will keep out much of the dirt from the surrounding area. Later, we expect to have gravel all around the pool and landscape this part of the camp."

Dr. George W. Miley, president of the Ohio Synod, and George Rinkoff, synod treasurer, are expected to be present for the dedication services tomorrow. The program will be in charge of Rev. Keyser, head of the Christian Youth department of the Synod.

DEMONSTRATION PLANNED

During the afternoon, William Goss, water safety expert from the Dayton Red Cross chapter, will give life-saving demonstrations. Red Cross water safety officials from Mansfield also are expected to attend.

The program arrangements have been in charge of Rev. Carver P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, chairman of the camp committee, and John Linenmayer, treasurer of the camp committee and Mansfield Lutheran laymen.

A total of 450 boys and girls will enjoy the pool during the summer months.

Wright to Sing Sunday At First Lutheran Church

Richard Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Wright, and graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, will be soloist at the First English Lutheran church tomorrow morning.

Wright will sing, "The Publican," by Van DeWater, as an offertory solo.

Wright's presentation will feature Holy Communion services at the church. In addition to the administration of the Lord's Supper, there will be reception of new members by Rev. Carver P. Mitchell, pastor of the church.

Rev. J. C. Melchert, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical church, will preach tomorrow at vesper services at Lakewood park, Lakewood. The occasion will be the annual church assembly of all Evangelical and Reformed churches of Greater Cleveland.

Rev. and Mrs. Melchert will remain in Cleveland until Monday morning when they will leave for a two-week vacation on Manitoulin Island, Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lehman, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Melchert, and daughter, Janet, will join them for the outing.

Rev. Melchert will preach here tomorrow morning but there will be no services on Sunday, July 4.

A special homecoming service will be held at the Mayflower Congregational church tomorrow morning. Shut-ins of the church will be taken to the services in private cars. In addition to the recognition for the sick and shut-ins, there will be Holy Communion, reception of new members and baptism. A dinner for all congregational members and friends in the church parlors will follow the services. Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck will preach.

The administering of the Lord's Supper will feature services at the Main Street Evangelical UB church tomorrow morning. Rev. Willard J. Shawk will preside at the services.

Members of the Senior BFY of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet at the church Sunday at 4 p. m., and go to Mohican State park for a picnic and sunset service.

Monday at 7:30 p. m., the board of deacons of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet in the church.

The fats and oil shortage will be less acute in 1948 due to increased production of peanuts and soybeans in the United States and the availability of larger quantities of coconut, palm and olive oils.

Among those invited are Cpl. J. L. Bishop of the state highway patrol and Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Long said.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret E. McBride Berry, 79, who died at People's hospital Friday morning, will be at the Finefrock funeral home Monday at 1:30 p. m. with Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Burial will be in the Bellville cemetery.

New Vote Set On Proposal For Merger

Congregationalists Here to Ballot Again

Members of the First Congregational church of Mansfield will be asked to vote again on the proposal for merger of the national Congregational Christian churches with the Evangelical and Reformed congregations.

The plan was approved 1,000 to 12 at the general assembly of the Congregational Christian churches in Oberlin last week but, Rev. Matthew G. Madden explained today, it still is short of the over-all majority that is needed.

"Over the nation the vote was only 65 per cent in favor of the merger," Rev. Madden asserted. "That was about 10 percent short."

So the question will have to be returned to the 34 percent of churches that turned thumbs down on the question. However, there is no doubt but that the issue will carry.

The First Congregational church here was one of those churches which failed to ratify the issue but at the time it voted to go along with the general assembly if the issue were approved.

"I'm not sure just when we'll hold a congregational meeting for the purpose of voting again," Rev. Madden said. "Perhaps it won't be until next fall. But we will bring the issue up for discussion again."

Parents Invited To Wiener Roast

Fourteen members of the Jolly Homemakers 4-H club planned a wiener roast for their parents, to be held July 17, at Mottaway's cabin. The club met at the home of Gerda Ranch. Bonnie Jean Mottaway gave a demonstration on how to put a sleeve in a dress, and Bonnie Lee Cox showed how to put a collar on.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Joyce Estep on July 9 at 1:30 p. m.

Members of the Mifflin Township Livestock club planned a program for their parents to be held at Windsor school. Seventeen members of the club attended the meeting Wednesday night at the school.

Moving pictures will be shown at the parents' night program. Members also planned to meet the Happy Farmers 4-H club in a softball game. The date for the game has not been set.

Car Outlook Brightened

New Model Autos Due By Year End

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's optimism over production prospects for July and August took a boost with settlement of the most recent coal dispute. Uninterrupted coal production, the car makers believe, should assure at least some upturn in steel deliveries.

Ward's Automotive reports estimated June output in the United States at 316,864 cars and 117,466 trucks. Production so far this year thus jumped to 2,435,000 units. Nearly 700,000 of these have been trucks and coaches.

Trade circle gossip has it now that Buick and Oldsmobile will be among the first of General Motors' divisions to bring out 1949 models, probably through January, unless there is a revision of present planning.

CLOSE SECRET

Chrysler's new model planning continues to be a closely held secret. Ward's summarizes comment on that planning by saying:

"The prevailing tool and die craftsmen's strike is having some effect on Chrysler new model tooling, but the degree is not too great since the corporation's 1949 designs are more or less in a state of flux, especially in view of the recent public presentation of new model Ford cars.

"Late information is that the (Chrysler) corporation's new models will not be offered until after the turn of the year."

MONTHS OF PLANNING There has been a lot of talk in automotive trade circles that presentation last fall of the new Hudson and more recently the 1949 Ford cars upset new model plans of several car makers. Hudson and Ford may have outsmarted some of their competitors, but it should be emphasized that new models represent many months of planning.

It has been estimated that anything more than "face lifting" requires at least 18 months in automobile re-styling.

4-H Project Awards Offered

For the 19th consecutive year, the National 4-H Meat Animal awards program is being continued in Ohio under the direction of the extension service. Since the program's inception, 83 4-H club members in this state have received county medals of honor for superior records of achievement in meat animal projects.

As heretofore, the state winner gets a 17-jewel gold watch provided by Thomas E. Wilson of Chicago. Eight state winners selected for sectional honors will each receive a Chicago 4-H club congress trip. Four of the sectional winners will be named national champions; each will get a $200.00 college scholarship.

County Extension Agent George B. Ganyard will furnish complete information regarding this program.

FIRST MISSION STEP—Rev. and Mrs. Wray Smith look over their new home at 603 Westview boulevard, South Boulevards, which will be used as a meeting place for the new Lutheran mission, to be started in the south end section of the community.

First Lutheran Mission In 42 Years to Open Here

For the first time in 42 years a Lutheran mission will be started in Mansfield. With the purchase last week of the Burrows' home, 603 Westview boulevard, South Boulevards, the Synod of Ohio took the first step toward establishing this mission.

In 1906 the present St. Mark's Lutheran church, corner Reed and Springfield streets, began as a small mission group over the J. F. Uhlrich bakery on Springfield street. Today it is a well-established church.

During the intervening years, Mansfield has grown, Lutheran churches, as other churches of the city, have expanded, and for some time there has been felt the need of a mission to provide a church home for Lutherans in the south section of the community.

Rev. and Mrs. Wray Smith came here from Dayton early in April and since that time have been hunting a house and church, or a combination of both. The home on Westview boulevard for the present will answer the "both" purposes.

"We'll hold meetings in our living room unless enrollment becomes too heavy," Rev. Smith said. "We have found that there are 160 Lutherans in South boulevards and Woodland and we have talked to others of other denominations who express interest in our proposed mission.

"Harry Colbow, mayor of South

Stilwell's Diary Tells Fight of Heroic People

A book important not only as a history of a part of World War II but as a study of present-day China, will be made available Monday at the Public Library.

THE STILLWELL PAPERS, the diary of Gen. Joseph Stilwell covering the period from December 8, 1941, through October, 1944, is written in honest forthright style.

The account of his mission to China; the romances made and broken by the Chinese; the battle against corruption and inefficiency; the heroic accomplishments achieved with a minimum of men and material, are all described in full.

Mrs. Stilwell's account of the general's reception in this country will make your blood boil.

Other non-fiction offerings to be made available Monday include:

CIVILIZATION ON TRIAL by Arnold T. Toynbee, is a companion to the abridged edition of this author's STUDY OF HISTORY. This is a collection of essays written over a period of time all of which have bearing on the author's view of history. Toynbee has a gift of fascinating and enlightening his readers whether he deals with Graeco-Roman civilization, the dwarfing of Europe, Russia's Byzantine heritage, or the meaning of history for the soul.

WE NEED NOT FAIL, by Sumner Welles, is a study of the Palestine question and its implications as a crucial test of the United Nations. Because of his deep insight into the world crisis and his hope that Americans may lead their fellow nations into the ways of peace and security, Welles has written what could become the chart by which a safe course could be followed.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and take into account that your old car may now be worth more than you paid for it.

It was Henry Fielding, away back in the Eighteenth century, who said: "As the law dissolves all contracts which are without a valuable consideration, so a valuable consideration often dissolves the law"—and any resemblance to a local situation may be regarded as entirely coincidental.

Yes, Your Coal Will Cost More

AN AGREEMENT that seems to remove the threat of another almost immediate strike by coal miners is good news from one standpoint, but bad news from another. The "good news" part of it is that there is to be no arbitrary shutoff of essential coal supplies. The "bad news" lies in the fact that resultant wage increases and upping of the assessment for the miners' welfare-pension fund will mean another advance in coal prices—which are already at a disturbingly high level.

Raising the wages of miners to at least partially offset steadily increasing living costs follows the pressure group formula which has become a part of the inflationary process—and it stands to reason that if a miner, or other worker, is required to pay two or three times as much for what he buys he must have two or three times as much in wages in order to live comfortably.

The theory is quite simple, but it doesn't work out well in practice, for the reason that many people find it necessary to drag along on an inflexible "fixed income" which falls far short of meeting the doubled or trebled cost of food, clothing and other requirements of what are known as "American standards of living."

Until a way is found to either reduce prices or make a general equalization of present low-bracket incomes on the basis of present and prospective inflationary jumps in living costs, more will suffer from the situation that has been created than will benefit from it.

United Nations Doing Useful Work

IN SPITE of the apparent confusion and lack of progress in the proceedings of the Security Council of the United Nations, other agencies of that organization are quietly doing constructive work.

Reports from Lake Success show that during the month of May the International Refugee Organization provided air transportation for refugees and DP's from Germany to Venezuela. Beginning this week, 2,800 refugees are to be flown from Munich to Venezuela, and about 17,500 a year are scheduled to use air transportation from Hamburg to Montreal, thus getting around the obstacle imposed by the shortage of ships.

The agencies for food and agriculture and for labor are making progress along their own lines, and the organization for World Health has begun to carry out plans for the international control of tuberculosis.

The Amazon valley is slated for a study of its resources and its animal life, with the object of making the region more productive. This is being taken care of by a budget of $300,000 provided by a conference of nine nations.

UNESCO is still studying the needs of Europe along educational and cultural lines, and has adopted a program which will include occupied Germany in its activities.

While none of these signs of progress have been considered front page news, they are nevertheless important and valuable. They show that co-operation is possible on a large scale among nations. At least a beginning has been made.

Currency Contest In Germany

STUDENTS of economics should find interesting study material in Germany in the months to come. Russia and the western powers have joined in a contest of currencies. It is a strange turn in the struggle of wills in Germany, one in which the outcome could be as clear cut and decisive as that on a battlefield.

Currency sponsored by the Allies will be circulated in western Germany, and a currency sponsored by Russia will be in use in the eastern zone. Under such circumstances any difference in soundness between the two kinds of money is bound to become obvious at once, not only along the division line between the two zones but wherever trade is carried on between the two.

The political and economic systems of the two sections of Germany differ widely, as though the two zones were two sovereign nations. In the western area a democratic form of government and economy is being evolved. The eastern area is being developed along Soviet lines. How will these differences affect the two currencies? If one currency becomes more acceptable than the other, how then will trade between the two sections fare?

Economists of a future day may learn much from what is about to take place in Germany.

'Exhibitionists' Are Traffic Menace

ARE TRAFFIC regulations framed for the annoyance of motorists, and do the officers who act in their enforcement do their work in a spirit of persecution?

A listener to the talk of at least a few motorists would be likely to answer these questions in the affirmative. With the advent of the "silly season," some drivers throw caution to the winds, and resent any attempt to curb their recklessness. They watch their rear-view mirror for the approach of a police car, and govern their speed accordingly. They gleefully report "giving the cop the slip," boast of their seventy-five and eighty mile-an-hour traveling speed, and otherwise flout the laws of the road.

Mature individuals realize that traffic laws are made and enforced for the protection of all, and sensibly observe them. Reckless drivers are merely childish exhibitionists.

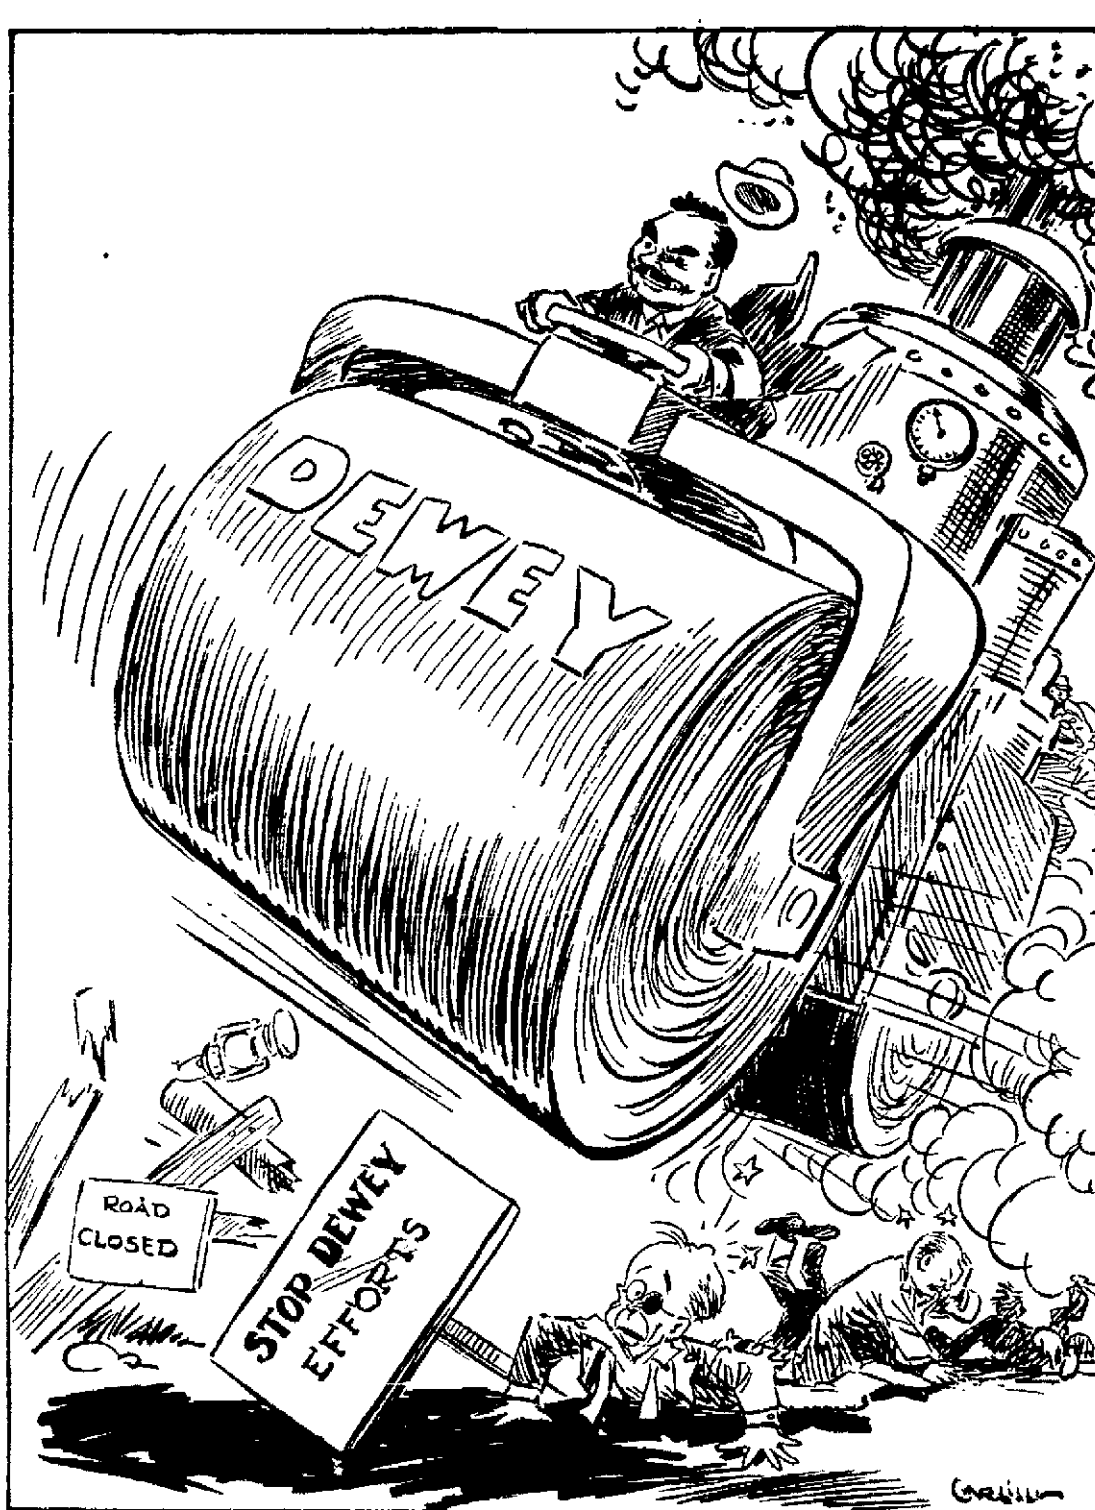

Combining Factory and Farm Work

INDUSTRY has for some time shown a tendency to leave large centers and move to smaller communities.

A plant has been recently completed in Tennessee which carries this idea even further. A big textile mill weaving rayon cord for tires has sprung up in the midst of a farming district and draws its labor from a twenty-mile radius.

No village is in existence there and none is expected to develop. The workers, all farmers, follow a rotating 40-hour week schedule which leaves plenty of time for agricultural chores.

Roger Babson presents the intriguing thought that within fifty years man can fly without the aid of flying machines—and as Roger approaches the age of 73 his forecast may be regarded as an expression of faith.

Another Defeat For Too Late and Too Little.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Much Material Provided For Campaign

IN the ancient gag a party platform was described as something to get in on and not to stand on. A different description is necessary for the Republican platform this year.

It is a means of gathering into a unit the various factions, elements and minority group which constitute the party. It is like the ante-room where the distinguished guests assemble before a chamber of commerce luncheon. They are introduced to one another, assembled in a line of procedure and otherwise prepared for the march to the speakers' table.

This platform is well suited to assemble for Republican speakers in the ensuing four months the subjects it is safe to talk about.

It gives a brief statement of each subject. It has a little something for all factions and groups—agriculture, labor, small business, school people, veterans, women, western conservationists, Negroes and many others. It provides plenty of criticisms and epithets to hurl at the Democrats. And it bridges the gap between those who want to give a lot to Europe and those who want to give a little. It accomplishes all these things successfully and, as platforms go, it is short and reasonably well phrased.

But a great proportion of the matters discussed in the platform will not be big campaign issues, for the Democrats and President Truman will have a hand in making the issues. And at this writing it can be confidently anticipated that Truman will stake his fortunes on two big issues.

The first is that the high cost of living was made in a Republican Congress; second, that the fate of the ERP cannot be entrusted to a Republican administration.

Subjects To Be Argued.

ON THE first of these issues inflation—the Republican platform stakes its fate on the elimination of controls. The Republican Congress rejected Truman's plea in December.

The statistical argument is that the course of inflation was accelerated by the administration because it failed to use effectively the controls it had and that it deliberately encouraged inflation. But in this, as in many other issues, the platform leaves it to the candidate to cite chapter and verse.

Whether Truman can put the Republicans in a real fix on inflation will depend upon many factors yet to be revealed.

Surely, as politicians the members of the Truman administration will try to make inflation seem imminent. They may even devise means of stimulating inflation.

It may well be that the big news on this will not come until September. At that time the General Motors wage-price formula comes up for revision. If the figures which cannot be tampered with by either side show a big rise, the country may be frightened into believing that Truman is right about controls.

If only a small wage increase is indicated, the Truman scare will blow over. Good economists believe now that a one- or two-cent adjustment in the G.M. formula will be indicated. Time will tell. But considering the fact that the problem, above all others, goes into every home and store in the land, it is bound to be important.

As to the size of ERP, the platform carefully avoids the issue. Both the Vandenberg and Martin-Taber people can stand on this platform. And the hope is that intra-party conflict can go over until after election.

As a political document, the platform is suitable to its purposes.

Learn the Facts First

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SO YOU don't believe in this Civil Rights question which is splitting the South and may cost Mr. Truman the presidential seat?

Well, that's all right. You have a right to your vote and to your prejudices. But when you hold such a violent prejudice, you are morally responsible for backing it with reasonable and humane arguments.

You have no more right to revile the Negro or vote against anyone who espouses his cause than you have to go out like a mad dog biting everyone you meet. And so I'm going to ask you to do one thing.

Before you go any further in your campaign of hate, I want you to read a book. The book is called "The Mississippi Girl" and was written by Mr. O. L. Elliott of 3250 Detroit Ave., Toledo.

"The Mississippi Girl" tells of the typical lot of a Negro share cropper in the southern states, not merely the lot of one girl whom Mr. Elliott has taken as an example. It is the lot of hundreds of thousands of Negroes scattered through the South and is a bloody and shameful tale of the abuse they have suffered at the hands of white men and in open defiance of the Constitution.

My southern friends, and I have many whom I love dearly, both white and black, may not appreciate my endorsement of this book. Some of its statements I do not endorse. I think they are shrill and unbalanced in their righteous rage against a utility.

But I do feel that if we are going to keep a large number of our citizens under a sort of peonage and deny them their civil rights, we should know of what we speak.

Mr. Elliott's sympathy was aroused by riding through the cotton fields, conversing with the landowners who dominate the community stores and visiting the Negroes themselves in their almost superhuman toil. He grants, as any intelligent person must, that many of them are ignorant. But that is our fault, not theirs. It is the fault of all states which refuse entrance of Negroes into colleges and which will not permit the ordinary Negro child to obtain an education beyond the seventh grade. Only a genius could break through a barrier like that, and most geniuses respect barriers.

Very few skilled labor jobs fall to the Negro's lot. He has been consistently refused training along those lines. So he takes to the cotton fields as his only recourse. From then on he is virtually a slave. Yet these are the same men who contributed half a million to their fighters to defend democracy and whose blood was mingled with their white commanders' overseas.

HERE is the routine to which the average Negro must submit.

"Dorothy's routine through the year goes something like this. In the spring she works in the field getting it ready to plant cotton. When the cotton is ready to be cultivated she chops weeds out of the cotton rows, going over the field about three times from the time the cotton is large enough to be cultivated until it is about grown. From then until time to pick cotton her duties are not so strenuous. Her hard work starts again in September and for over two months she drags a nine-foot cotton sack through the field picking cotton from two rows at a time. Her average day's picking from early morning until late in the evening is something like 300 pounds.

And for this what does she receive?

"Beginning the first of March the landlord furnishes him $35 per month to buy food and clothing while he is making the cotton crop. After advancing this money, the Negro or other share cropper is required to buy his provisions from the land owner. That amounts to $7 per month for each member of the family to buy food, clothing and spending money. When the cotton is gathered, the landlord takes it and sells it. The worker never knows for sure what the cotton brought. He ever sees the books on it. The only books he sees are the accounts kept for the advances the landlord gave him. When the cotton is sold and they settle up, he usually has $250 or $300 left out of a possible $400 when he is supposed to be getting half."

These figures are appalling. No white man in America could work under such an arrangement or for such a wage. It is only made possible by keeping the Negro in the deepest ignorance and degradation and under constant fear of the law lest he run counter to some white man's prejudice.

Yes, it is true that there are many plantations in the South where the landlord has full recognition of the Negro's plight and sees to it that he has a comfortable and clean home and schools and churches and cemeteries for his kin. But such plantations are rare indeed, so prejudiced are the majority of people to their presence. They will receive them as slaves but as nothing else.

Remember—I am not promoting this book. I am simply asking you to read it to justify your own prejudice. It is filled with countless instances of law breaking on the part of the white police.

Some of it is too shrill because the author's whole heart is behind what he writes. But he has as much right to such enthusiasm as you have to your prejudice against him.

Read that book. Read it before you ever again voice your disapproval or distrust of the Negro.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Republicans Choose Dewey and Warren

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

EAST AND WEST meet in the political arena as New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey wins Republican nomination for the presidency, with California's Governor Earl Warren chosen as his vice presidential running mate.

After several tumultuous days, peace came Thursday evening to Convention Hall in historic Philadelphia. Opposing candidates hastened to withdraw and the nomination of Dewey was accomplished with such unanimity as to make it appear assured from the start.

Then came the Friday morning session, for choice of a vice presidential candidate, and while there had been a variety of rumors as to prospects, one name stood out above all the others—Warren of California—and when the decisive moment came, his selection was by acclamation.

Now that the curtain has been drawn on the convention drama, more attention will be given to various phases of the Republican platform which was ratified earlier in the week.

This platform pledges internationalism, strong forces for defense, and civil rights for all. The 2,400-word document, shortest in party history, places the GOP on record on a number of issues soggy with controversy: public housing, Israel, prices, labor and anti-Communist legislation.

The foreign policy plank, which isolationists were unable to splinter in repeated assaults in committee, clearly bears the Vandenberg touch.

Dedicated to "preservation of a free America in a free world of free men," it pledges aid to other peace-loving countries on a self-help basis (as in the Marshall plan). But the platform framers inserted these words: "within the prudent limits of our own economic welfare."

Buttresses the U.N. The plank closely follows Vandenberg's ideas on strengthening the United Nations. It calls for eliminating the big power veto in cases dealing with peaceful settlement of disputes. It says nothing about junking the veto in cases where the use of armed force is concerned.

It promises full recognition and economic aid to the new nation of Israel, "subject to the letter and spirit of the U.N. charter."

The national defense plank "we propose" maintaining the Army, Navy and Air Force "to a degree which will insure our national security." It recognizes the "American principle that every citizen has an obligation of service to his country."

On civil rights, the Republican plank is not far from President Truman's program which caused such tumult in the South. It calls for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching, abolish the poll tax, and opposes racial segregation in the armed forces.

For Public Housing. The housing plank recommends "federal aid to states for local slum clearance and low-rental housing" but only where there is a need that can't be met by private enterprise, states or cities.

On labor, the platform pledges "continuing study to improve labor-management legislation in the light of experience and changing conditions."

On inflation, it charges the Democrats by their policies have "deliberately encouraged higher prices," and promises to combat inflation by cutting government waste, stimulating production, trimming the public debt and maintaining a sound currency.

At Home

Army Set for Draft.

The Army probably will call up 200,000 to 225,000 men during the first 12 months of the new draft program. This will approximate the number of enlistments expiring during that time.

The draft bill passed by Congress in its closing hours last week-end fixes the total strength of all service arms at 2,005,882. The Army will be expanded to 837,000 from its present strength of 548,000. The Navy and Marine Corps will rise to 666,882 from 469,000.

The Air Force, under its new 70-group setup, will soar to 502,000 from 382,000.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, says he thinks the bill is adequate. It provides for drafting men 19 through 25 for 21 months of service.

Draftees will be subject to possible overseas service after their basic training is finished.

Mules and Machines.

Ten years ago next week, the late President Roosevelt issued a report to a select group of 22 Southerners in which he called the South the "Nation's No. 1 Economic Problem."

The Raleigh News & Observer, in a special report this week, reviewed the decade, showing the South's paradoxes and contrasts, its progress and retrogression—a decade which began with the mule and plow and ends with the machine.

Jonathan Daniels, editor of the N&O, declared the "had been much progress but 'a good part of Southern progress like the progress of the nation beside it is fictitious."

Daniels found many Southerners shocked to discover that in terms of other states, regions and people now they are almost as far behind the rest of the nation as ever, despite a decade of progress, sacrifice and struggle.

New Heart Technique.

The principle of reinforced concrete, carried over into medicine, is being used to reinforce blood clots for the repair of weak or injured hearts.

Concrete uses steel bars for reinforcement. The blood is reinforced by a gelatin sponge, a white fluffy substance. Blood, seeping into this sponge, clots in places where blood alone would never clot.

The new technique was described to the American Medical Association convention in Chicago.

Experiments thus far have been confined to animals but the usefulness has been confirmed by previous human uses of gelatin sponges.

Traffic Accidents.

What causes fatal automobile accidents?

A joint study by three highway safety agencies discloses that seven out of ten drivers involved in fatal accidents were violating traffic laws at the time. One out of six had been drinking.

Persons 16 years of age drove 2,300,000 miles per fatal accident, the report says, while drivers 45 to 49 drove 21,900,000 miles per fatal accident.

When drivers pass 50, their accident rate increases.

Abroad

East-West Rift.

The east-west struggle for Germany has entered a new and active stage after a long dead-lock. French approval of plans for a new western German state is the green light for which the western powers have been waiting. The French Parliament decision (by a narrow margin) to go along with Britain and the United States ends an occupation stalemate which for almost three years has kept Germany quarantined.

The three western occupation powers, with the Benelux countries, now are agreed that Germany should be divided into four zones.

Boy Bringing the Cows

By CALVIN A. BYERS

ALL afternoon our youngest boy, 8, had sat along the grassy strawberry row. A thunder storm was brewing in the west, when around five, the oldest brother came by and said, "It's time to bring the cows."

The little boy's face puckered and he said, "My back is tired, anyway." Quickly he set his quart of berries on the rack, and pulled his broad brimmed straw hat down above his ears. Then down through the tall grass I saw him go toward winding Honey Creek, his old straw hat bobbing up and down like a heavy sunflower bowing in the wind, his slender body hidden from view by the tall sedges, his tough bare feet unhurt by the sharpest stubble.

The red-winged blackbirds that nest where the cattails grow aren't friendly," he told me one time. One flew down and lit on his sun tanned shoulder and pecked at him.

"Don't let them get into your hair," I advised. "If one stayed long enough to build a nest, think what trouble you might have."

He smiled, but said soberly, "I don't believe I'll go that way again."

Those same blackbirds were pulling up a neighbors corn. The neighbor hid in the pasture and shot into the flock, the little boy told me. Since then, the blackbirds have not been dangerous or bothersome—but, by his tone, I know that part of the adventure of bringing the cows is lost.

Other times he mentioned the old slate-colored crane that he happened to find fishing, the

Quotes

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. commander in Germany, replies to Russian demand that the western allies quit Berlin: "Nothing short of active war can drive us out."

Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee: "Mere victory in an election is not our task nor our purpose. Our task is to fill our victory with such meaning that mankind everywhere, yearning for freedom, will take heart and move forward out of this desperate darkness into the light of freedom's promise."

man resources should be used to aid Europe's recovery.

The Russians long have had their own plan for a German state to be dominated by communists.

One of the Russian objectives has been to squeeze the western powers out of Berlin, which is deep within their occupation zone.

Threat of Civil War.

The clash of arms resounded this week in Palestine despite the United Nations truce. This time the strife was not between Jew and Arab but between Jew and Jew. The threat of civil war over the new state of Israel as Haganah, the Jewish army, fired on members of Irgun Zvai Leumi attempting to land arms from a beached boat in violation of armistice terms.

A broadcast by Irgun, the former underground movement, said, "Some of our people have been killed." It threatened a "blood battle between Jews" unless Haganah attacks stopped.

Count Folke Bernadotte sent U.N. truce observers to the scene, 18 miles north of Tel Aviv.

The Israeli government, in a formal statement, said it used force only after Irgun leaders refused to recognize authority of the new state.

Many Jewish leaders regard the clash as a forerunner of the long-expected showdown between extremist Irgun and Haganah, the official Jewish defense army.

Tarac Surrenders.

Almost two years of bloody civil war in the Philippines ended, at least temporarily, this week with the voluntary surrender of Luis Tarac, leader of the rebellious Huk-balahaps.

The slender peasant leader and five lieutenants flew in to Manila from guerrilla headquarters in central Luzon and gave up personally to President Elpidio Quirino.

Quirino immediately decreed amnesty for Tarac's 50,000 followers and gave them 20 days in which to surrender their guns.

chipmunk that frisked along the rail fence and peeked out of a knothole, the tree toad that had such a peculiar voice and lived in the big oak; the litter of playful groundhogs—"do you call them pups or kittens?"

The cows stand by the gate, lowing and waiting to move toward the barn. The whole trip takes ten minutes or so, each way. Presently the small boy is back with the cows walking sedately ahead of him and the black dog trotting along behind.

Just a typical evening scene on any Ohio farm... just a typical farm boy who will always know the sweet memory of a gurgling stream, hay-scented breath of cattle, the thrush's evening song, the perfume of wild strawberries, the clean smell of mint. Such memories are wealth, when a man is older.

Timely Editorial

Belated Appreciation.

The great welcome that was given to Herbert Hoover by the delegates to the national Republican convention was no expression of sentimentality. It showed the deep respect and admiration that not merely the party but the entire nation feels toward a man who has devoted the greater part of his adult life to fine public service.

His address Tuesday night was on a lofty plane of patriotism that recognized America's obligation for world leadership. It showed no narrow partisanship. There were none of the banalities that so often mar convention speeches. No one could doubt that Hoover was speaking the deepest convictions of his heart.

It is fortunate that the country has in this elder statesman a leader of such experience, wisdom and devotion to the common good.—Kansas City Times.

Daily Bible Thought

It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart.—Eccl. 7:2.
